

Buzz Buzz Buzz (The Bee Song)

by John Benjamin, Teacher-Naturalist

CHORUS

Buzz Buzz Buzz, I'm a little buzzing bee
Flying in the sunshine to flowers that I see
Gathering nectar and pollen, oh what a tasty treat
And pollinating plants so they can grow CLAP! CLAP! CLAP!
those fruit and seeds!

Verse 1

Flying through the meadow from flower to flower to flower
Drinking up that nectar takes a lots of working hours
Gather pollen up in orange blobs called baskets all day long
I'm a little worker honeybee, please listen to my song!

CHORUS

Verse 2

With all my sister worker bees, I live inside a hive
Working all together is how our colony survives
Our mother is the queen, she lays two thousand eggs a day
The males bees are the drones, and that's our family - HURRAY!

CHORUS

Verse 3

I started as an egg, the queen laid me in a cell
I hatched into a larva, and the workers fed me well
I turned into a pupa and my body was transformed
They call it metamorphosis, and that's how bees are formed!

CHORUS

Verse 4

The bees are so important for the plants and for the trees
Moving pollen between flowers is how plants can make their seeds
Of course honeybees make honey, but bees do much more, don't you see?
Making fruits and veggies grow so people have enough to eat!
