

There's A Wolfie In The Yard

by John Benjamin, Teacher-Naturalist

A-wooooooooooooo!

There's a wolfie in the yard
But I don't need to be afraid
He looks pretty friendly
And he lives here anyway

There's a wolfie on the floor
And he's chewing on a bone
Goodness gracious, me oh my,
There's a wolfie in my home!

A-wooooooooooooo!

Many years ago
When lots of wolves were roaming free
Some started hanging around humans
Looking for some scraps to eat

These wolves gave us protection
Keeping predators away
Started joining human hunters
Helped with sniffing down the prey

A-wooooooooooooo!

And a partnership was formed
Wolves and humans in a pack
Now after many generations
We have chihuahuas in our laps

There are Saint Bernards and huskies
Beagles, terriers, and pugs
Dogs of every shape and size
Oh no, mine just peed on the rug...

A-wooooooooooooo!

When I go walking with my dog
I watch how he behaves
Smelling information
With his wolfie nose and brain

Dogs are cute and cuddly
Our best friends is what they are
But these domesticated canines
Still have a wolfie heart
