

Inspire the Next Generation

Partner with the Harris Center to make a lasting impact on environmental education. Your support will help us educate over 3,000 students annually across 33 Monadnock Region schools. Our dedicated teacher-naturalists awaken students' curiosity, deepen their connections to nature, and inspire them to explore and engage with the great outdoors. Together, we can nurture the next generation of nature lovers, ensuring a sustainable future for our planet.

Your partnership makes a difference!

The Harris Center promotes understanding and respect for our natural world through education of all ages, direct protection and exemplary stewardship of the region's natural resources, conservation research, and programs that encourage active participation in the great outdoors.

BUSINESS PARTNERSHIPS

Connecting children to nature throughout the Monadnock Region

Partner with Us!

Harris Center teacher-naturalists bring science-based environmental education programs to schools in the communities where your employees and their families live, utilizing schoolyards, parks, and other nearby green space as outdoor classrooms for students from pre-K through high school.

As a Business Partner, you play a vital role in connecting local schoolchildren with the natural world by supporting these important programs.

The Harris Center by the Numbers

Each year the Harris Center

- Serves over 20,000 people of all ages through school and community-based programming
- Engages more than 3,000 children in outdoor education at their local schools
- Visits over 170 school classrooms multiple times a year with our teacher-naturalists
- Provides outdoor education classes in more than 30 schools, from from Keene to Stoddard, and Antrim to Rindge
- Hosts more than 150 programs for the public throughout the region, most of which are free
- Offers 21 miles of hiking trails, each featuring unique scenery
